Democrats Complete Slate As Hill Whips Money In Primary

The Democrats and Republicans are ready for the Nov. 6 general election.

The former finished naming its candidates Saturday in the second primary runoff election, picking John B. Connally as gubernatorial nominee over Don Yarborough.

Randall County Democrats nominated Mrs. Ruth Hill, the incumbent, to oppose Republican Laverne Daniel for county treasurer in November.

She defeated Claude Money, 2,515 to 1,553, a vote similar to the one in the first primary.

Connally, President Kennedy's first secretary of the navy, whipped Yarborough, a Houston attorney, by some 575-000 votes to 540,000.

The county vote was Connally 2,531, Yarborough 1,546.

The young Houston lawyer was tagged the liberal candidate.

Jack Cox of Breckenridge is the Republican gubernatorial nominee. He ran as a strong Democratic Candidate in 1960.

Most political observers feel the GOP has at least a 50-50 chance of winning the office in the general election.

Randall Republicans completed their slate in the May 5 primary and a runoff was unnecessary.

There was only one reversal in vote counting from the first primary, with J.M. "Red" Simpson defeating the incumbent Ted Springer.

The voters also nominated Preston Smith, a state senator from Lubbock, for lieutenant governor over James A. "Jimmy" Turman, present speaker of the house.

Waggoner Carr won over Tom Reavley for the attorney general nomination, 620,000 to 450,000 and Joe Pool whipped Woodrow Bean for congressman-at-large, 575,000 to 450,-000.

The county balloting was some 1,000 votes lighter than in the first primary.

Princess Deadline Saturday

The deadline for entering the Panhandle Dairy Princess contest is Saturday.

Some 20 contestants have already entered the event scheduled for the Canyon High School auditorium June 15.

It will be co-sponsored by Randall County and Canyon members of the North Texas Milk Producers Association and the Randall County Farm Bureau. The contest will be one of the activities during "June Is Dairy Month."

Girls entered in the contest will be judged on personality, beauty and poise. The one crowned Panhandle Dairy Princess will receive a $200 college scholarship to the school of her choice.

The second place winner will

Montgomery Is Selected Band Director

Lee Boyd Montgomery, Jr., is the new band director for the Canyon public schools.

Montgomery, a native of Littlefield, has been band director at Bowie High School.

"His bands have been in the first division in both marching and concert competition," Joe Gibson, superintendent of the Canyon Independent School District, said.

Montgomery was band director for the Ropes public schools in Ropesville in 1956-58 and for the Sudan schools in 1958-61.

Developments Come 1-2-3 As Summer Term Is Underway

By WILLIAM PEART

An increased summer school enrollment of about 200 students at West Texas State College....

Approval for granting the Master of Arts degree in three majors beginning this fall....

And the issuance of $2,000,000 in building permits....

Those three developments followed in rapid-fire order yesterday as classes began for the first six-weeks summer term.

Dr. James P. Cornette, WT president, said 1,131 students had completed enrollment by class time yesterday and more than 1,300 had begun registration.

He expects the first term enrollment to be between 1,350 and 1,400 when registration closes Saturday.

Final first term enrollment last year was 1,132.

Dr. Cornette said the new masters approval is for majors in chemistry, mathematics and physics starting in the fall semester.

The Texas Commission on Higher Education okayed the WT request in Austin Tuesday.

They were for a new $1,000,-000 men's dormitory, a $600,-000 women's dormitory and a $400,000 dining hall.

Bids for the work are expected to be submitted in August.

No additional details were available.

"Some of the (enrollment) increase this year may be attributed to the advertising of our expanded program of summer offerings," Dr. Cornette said.

This year, he added, more teachers are returning to college to meet certification requirements, or to satisfy requirement for additional work by boards of education.

The first term opening was delayed until after June 1 this year.

Dr. Cornette cited that as one reason for the boosted enrollment. He said more public school teachers had more time to ready themselves for college after their own schools closed.

The WT president also said more students are now beginning their college work in the summer rather than waiting until the fall semester.

About twice as many beginning freshmen were counseled during an orientation program Monday as were tested for the first term in 1961.

Dr. Cornette said the particular areas of the increased enrollment have been in biology, English, geography, modern language and music.

The first term closes July 13 and registration for second semester begins July 17.

Visit, Talk Is Scheduled

John B. Connally of Fort Worth, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, will be guest speaker at the first annual Panhandle Junior Hereford Breeders Field Day at the Walter Graham ranch June 23.

Connally's speech will highlight the one-day event featuring beef cattle judging contests.

Competition will begin at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the morning with Panhandle 4-H and FFA judging teams participating.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham will host a barbecue lunch for contestants and visitors following the contests Saturday morning. Graham, recognized as a leading registered Hereford breeder of the Southwest, estimated the attendance to be between 600 and 1,000.

High point individual in the contests will receive a registered Hereford heifer from Graham. Trophies will be presented to other winners during an afternoon general assembly at the ranch.

Deadline for entering the livestock judging contests is Saturday. Entries should be mailed to Charles Smallwood, head of the agriculture department at West Texas State College.

A speech contest will be held in the Herring Hotel in Amarillo June 16 for members of the Junior Hereford Breeders Association.

Collections On Weekly Basis

Sorry, folks, but Canyon just doesn't have the equipment and manpower to collect your trash more than once a week during the summer.

City Manager Bill York points out more trash and garbage accumulates in the summer because of outdoor activities--like picnics, for instance.

Consequently, he says, the collectors have more to do and are just unable to make their rounds more than once a week.

Things slack off in the winter, and collections are made twice a week.

York says the trash isn't necessarily collected the same day each week.

"We may make a collection at one house on Tuesday of this week," he says, "and next week it may be on Thursday."

Group Names Mrs. Lair As President

Mrs. A.W. Lair has been elected president of the Canyon Concert Association.

Also named Tuesday night were Raymond Raillard, vice president; Mrs. Gerald Dietz, secretary; Oscar Schuette, re-elected treasurer; Dr. Ples Harper, re-elected membership chairman; Mrs. Troy Martin publicity chairman.

Mrs. Gene Morrison, concerts chairman; Mrs. Murphy White, social chairman; Joe Findley, appointments chairman; and Mrs. Joe Findley, re-named corresponding secretary.

Mrs. F.M. Blackburn, local representative of the Community Concerts, presented the names of several persons who may appear on the programs next season.

Right-Of-Way Changes Set

Some who-has-the-right-of-way changes are in the making.

The Texas Highway Department said yesterday they'll be where 15th and 11th Streets go into U.S. 60.

As of now, the service roads at those intersections have the right-of-way.

But in a few days--when some lights and signs are changed--the service roads traffic must come to a complete halt before proceeding.

Traffic lights were installed at 11th Street--S.H. 217--late last month. Other lights have been installed--but not yet put into operation--where 15th Street flows into U.S. 60.

The department figures the changes will prevent some fender-bendings.

'The Gazebo' Will Open Players Summer Session

The Palo Duro Players will open their summer season with two performances of "The Gazebo" tomorrow and Saturday.

"The Gazebo," a comedy melodrama by Alec Coppel, will be presented in the air-conditioned Branding Iron Theater in the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State College.

The leading roles will be played by Gary Wyatt of Dimmitt and Barsha Fowler of Dalhart. They won the best actor and best actress awards recently at the WT Fine Arts Festival.

Wyatt and Miss Fowler will have the roles played by Walter Slezak and Jayne Meadows in the Broadway production of "The Gazebo".

Cast in featured roles are Jerry Williams of Canyon as Harlow Edison, Jenny Lynn Massad of Spearman as Mrs. Chandler, Mary Jo Ondracek of Dalhart as Matida and Harry Gilstrap of Amarillo as The Duke.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Moore, who organized the Palo Duro Players in 1949, are the directors. Erin Wertenberger of Hereford is the designer.

Curtain time for both performances is 8:15 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling the box office at the Fine Arts Building. Prices are $1 for adults, 50 cents for high school students and college students with activity tickets and 25 cents for grade school children and younger.

Persons interested in gaining practical theatre experience may enroll in the WT Summer Theatre. The Palo Duro Players will also assist in the third annual high school speech workshop scheduled July 1-14 at the college.

Dr. Crannell Tolliver, chairman of the department of speech at WT, can be contacted at OL5-3860 for further information.

A mother-son art exhibit will be held in the theatre's foyer tomorrow through Sunday from

City Scouts Grab First In Olympics

Post 66 Explorer Scouts from Canyon swept to first place in the 1962 Explor-Olympics held over the weekend at West Texas State College.

Second place winner was Sea Scout Ship 72 of Amarillo and third place went to Post 84 of Midland.

Some 400 Explorers from the seven council areas of the West Range of Region 9 participated and top honors stayed in the Llano Estacado Council.

Post 66 scored first place with a win in the basketball tournament, a second place in volleyball, a first in the 440-yard relay, and another first in rifle marksmanship.

Davis Price and Elo Myers won the rifle shooting and Price carried Post 66 to victory in the chess tournament. He also scored a sixth place in the breaststroke swimming race. Larry Holman of 66 finished second in ping-pong.

George Cox was third in the backstroke and Elo Myers scored a fifth in the breaststroke with the 66 swimmers scoring a second in the relay.

Harry Lisle won two second places for 66 in the broad jump and 120 yard low hurdles. James Cabe scored a fifth in the broad jump.

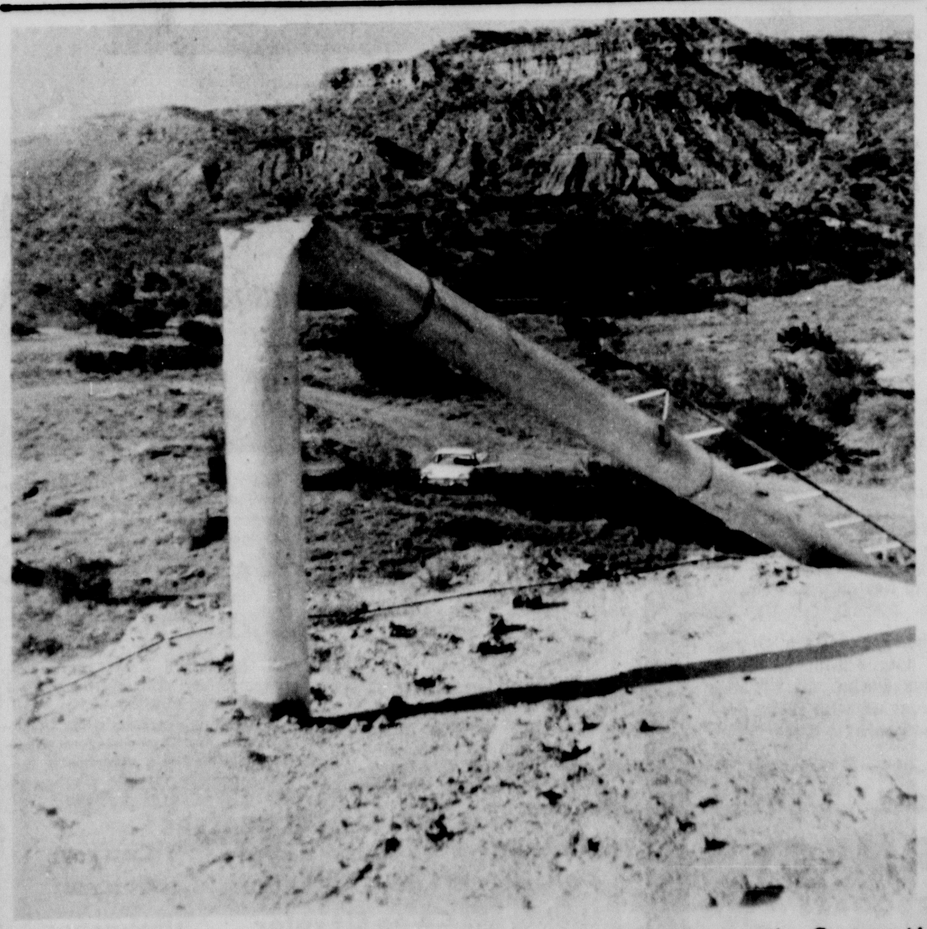

Scoring other points for Post 66 were Bob Haggard with a second in extemporaneous speaking, Eugene Blasdel with a fourth place in road-e-o driving and a fifth place win in auto mechanics.

Clark deSchwienitz, president of Post 66, took honors for 66 in the tennis tournament. He later accepted the first place trophy from Dr. James Cornette, president of WT, during the awards presentation Sunday morning.

The Sea Scouts Ship 72 was led by Garry Woods.

He won the hurdles, broad jump and ran on the unit's relay team that finished sixth.

Some 20 persons were removed to safety Sunday after winds whipped a ski lift car at Palo Duro Canyon State Park into a supporting pole, bending it and halting operations until Tuesday. Concessionaire Pete Cowart said the accident occurred about 5 p.m. No one was injured, he said, and there was no panic. Cowart said the lift riders were removed in 15 minutes. Sunday's accident was the third since the first of the year. The ski ride is a private enterprise and has no official connection with the park.

Hilltop Views

"I am no prophet, or the son of a prophet" has been quoted a thousand times by Tom, Dick and Harry as a sort of preface to or apology for making prophesy. I am doing it today, except that I call it a prediction.

And I am making my prediction at the risk of being called soft on communism. If this happens it just will not be so. The only people that dislike communism more than I do are those whose capacity and knowledge and experience with it surpass mine.

So here I go. I predict that within the next ten to twenty years communism will cease to be a major problem in this country or in the world at large. My reasons for this point of view are three, as follows:

1. It contains the seeds of its own death. Enduring and progressive civilizations must be based upon moral and spiritual values. Communism rejects honesty, virtue, filial affection, truthfulness, love, mercy, and faith in both man and God. Right does not exist except when its observance will promote the purpose and plans of ruling Communists. Communism does not recognize the dignity of man or the individual's inalienable rights. In Russian Communism the home is little more than a breeding stable to produce more workers and soldiers for a conscienceless despotism; and the church, in the measure it stands for decency and Christian virtues, is a stumbling-block to a ruthless, atheistic government. Imprisonment, slave labor, and murder are freely used to enforce arbitrary power.

Since such concepts and practices as these allow no place for a kind, loving, all-powerful Creator, Communism denies His existence. In such a society rulers have no need for God. He would be in their way. Hence they say there is no such Being. It is evident, therefore, that Russian Communism has no moral and spiritual content--no basis for endurance and therefore must die. George Washington wisely said: "The Nation that forgot God has never been allowed to endure."

2. There is much evidence now that Communism is already on the decline. If you doubt it read about "The amazing flight from Communism in U.S. News and World Report of June 4, beginning on page 46. It is the most heartening international news we have had in many a day. You have to read that whole story to get its full significance, but here is a short summary:

Although Communist nations have made tremendous effort to restrain escapees, more than 10,000,000 people have successfully made their ways to freedom since World War II. In Hong Kong, for example, refugees have been coming so fast from Red China that the British government (Hong Kong is a British controlled city) has been forced in recent months to build barbed wire barricades to hold back the 4,000 daily refugees that flood that city. For ten years or more 100,000 Red Chinese escapees have found domicile in Hong Kong annually, this in spite of the fact that both the British and Red Chinese governments are doing all they can to prevent it.

Since the Castro revolution, some 200,000 Cubans have fled their country, 150,000 of them coming to the U.S. They are still leaving there at the rate of almost 2,000 each week.

Prior to the building of the Berlin Wall, East Berlin had lost nearly one-fourth of its 17 million population to the West. In spite of the Wall and almost certain death if caught, stories of escape continue to appear in our newspapers. And besides East Germans, it is said that 2.5 million people have fled from Eastern Europe.

The same kind of stories come from North Korea, from North Vietnam, from Hungary, from Tibet, from Laos, and from whatever other countries Communism has taken over. And these millions who escape leave many other millions behind who no doubt would escape if they could.

Still another evidence of failing communism is the fact that in several communist countries the system is being modified in the direction of free enterprise, particularly in the area of food production. In Cuba, Yugoslavia, Russia, and China farmers are being given a measure of individual freedom in order to increase the supply of food. This amounts to an acknowledgement of the failure of communism in the area of economics.

3. Finally, outside communist countries themselves the voice of humanity is crying for more freedom. This is dramatically revealed in the decline and near disappearance of colonialism; and in the rise of independent states. True enough that many of these new nations are presently incapable of governing themselves, but they will learn through "blood and sweat and tears." We, the people of the U.S., have travelled that road ourselves, and haven't fully arrived yet. The dog of despotism still barks at our doors, but, under God, he will never enter the house. Because of modern means of transportation and communication some of these new nations will travel the road to freedom more rapidly than has our own country; and the more free people there are in the world the less chance communism will have.

Yes, folks, destiny is moving the world in the opposite direction from Communism. This writer, in all probability, will not live to say "I told you so", but he has no doubt that a greater freedom for all mankind is one the way.

Your Better Hearing

Ear surgery has progressed a great deal in recent years. One surgical technique was first attempted in 1876 and was not perfected until 1930. This technique is outdated now. Since 1930, operations have been developed and perfected at a much more rapid pace until today, the doctors can help many more people than they could even 10 years ago.

It has been my privilege to observe ear surgery. Truly, it is a miraculous advancement. The doctor works with the aid of a sixteen-power microscope and numerous specially developed instruments. It takes a steady hand and extreme skill to perform this surgery.

With all of the fine advancements made by ear surgeons, however, we still cannot say, "every one can now be cured!" Unfortunately, many newspaper and magazine articles will lead the readers to believe that all will benefit from ear surgery.

There are basically two sources of hearing difficulty. One is called conductive hearing loss. This occurs when sound is not conducted to the nerve receptor portion of the ear. The ear drum may be ruptured, there may be fluid in the middle ear cavity, or there may be numerous other occlusions to the conductive processes which carry sound inward to the receptors.

The conductive hearing impairment is amenable to medical and surgical help most of the time.

Let's get political. Why not!

Not political in the sense of Democrat vs. Republican, or liberal vs. conservative, or for vs. against horse race betting. Let's get political about a subject having great importance to the future of West Texas State College . . . and the subject is the Texas State College Board of Regents.

Why must it be political? Because there is no choice. The regent system under which West Texas State operates was born by politics, it is run by politics, and if it is changed, it must be changed by politics.

West Texas State, along with five other State colleges, is the victim of an outdated regency system, which results in the taxpayers of Texas not getting their moneys worth out of the tax dollar.

Most State colleges and universities in Texas have separate boards of regents. Each board can closely study needs of the college involved, study the financial picture of the present and the future, and come up with an economy-scrutinized budget.

The Texas State College Board of Regents handles the financial (and academic) life of six colleges, each with budgets running into the millions of dollars. Each year the Board meets, usually in Austin, to study the budgets. The meeting generally covers three or four days.

Then, during the year, the Board gets around to a 'courtesy' call on each campus, where they are wooed and waggled by administrators, while maintenance men are sent frantically scurrying to get the candy bar wrappers off the north forty.

No fun is being poked at the State Board of Regents. A realistic view is only being taken . . . especially of the taxpayers dollar.

Regardless of the serious purpose of the men on this Board, regardless of how much timey they take to perform the dollar-a year-plus travel-expenses task, they cannot do justice to the enormity of the job.

Take any local community in Texas. Take Canyon, for example. How much time, and sweat, and haggling does it take for six or seven community friends to sit down and work out the annual financial problems of the public school it is charged with overseeing . . . and in most cases, the money over which they must haggle is just peanuts compared to the millions for which the State Board of Regents must be responsible.

And, money is not the only item over which they must govern. In many instances they must pass on the curriculum, approve the hiring and firing of staff and instructors, check plans for new buildings, and on down the line to more minor problems perhaps as airing complaints about the professor who should be in his office tending to his business rather than off feeding cattle or taking a jaunt around the local golf course.

Opponents of a separate board for each State college say it would be more expensive in the long run . . . that each would be pushing for pet projects.

No doubt there is some truth in this argument. However, a close look at North Texas State University and Texas A & I, both of whom originally were under the State Board of Regents, but now have separate boards, reveals institutions which have not disrupted the economy of the State, but have become standouts among the centers of higher learning in Texas.

How did these schools get separate boards? By politics. Someone, perhaps an ex-student, became interested enough to talk to a representative or a senator. Perhaps a group of exes did it, or a group of interested area business leaders.

West Texas State is in a unique position in several ways. One way is geographically. The college serves an area equal or almost equal to the geographical dimensions of several different states. Directly in its area is a population approaching the half million mark. Just with normal growth, it will have five or six thousand students on its campus within a very short time.

It is time for those who are genuinely interested in the future of West Texas State to think seriously about what can be done to secure a separate board.

It is time for taxpayers to become more interested in how their dollar is being spent for higher education in Texas, especially in the Panhandle of Texas.

Just Sort Of...

That is, Elliott, my three-year-old is. He's still splotchy, and more than just sort of whiney.

Which reminds me when I had the breaking out. I was about seven, I reckon, and as I remember it, my brother had them, and my sister did, too.

A couple of cousins got the itchings about the same time. Mother and Aunt Madelyn figured the smart course would be to herd the whole caboodle of us over to Mammy's--that's Aunt Madelyn's-house.

The thinking, of course, was to expose all of us kin folks to each other. At least, mother and Mammy could pretty well make certain the measle thing was settled in one full swoop.

Looking back, it's not easy to understand how those two souls managed us nagging young folks.

I'm not sure what Mary Jean spooned down Elliott, but I do remember--if vaguely--that mother and Mammy poured a lot of medicines into us.

Then, when we started getting on the mend--all of us in stages, naturally--there was lots of grumbling, as only kids can.

Warren--he was a cousin--and I had sprouted up to a similar size. That meant we wanted the same things--like attention--and about the same time.

Doris Lane and Bub--she was the girl cousin, and he was my five-years-older than-I-brother--were competing on the same plane.

Sue Bennye, our sister, was kind of in-between. I'm not sure, but I suspect she had the best of it.

We got lots of loving care, all of us.

Until, that is, the fever went wherever fever finally goes.

Then mother and Mammy decided it was time for some family discipline. The old-fashioned kind.

I remember several solid spankings. I guess the others do, too.

At least we got well in a hurry.

And it wasn't the last time mother and Mammy decided to run an its-all-in-the-family hospital of sorts.

The above words could refer to building materials, acrobats, or obtaining a college degree. But, in a pharmacy they relate to one thing — the filling of prescriptions.

A mortar is used to mix ingredients, the tile for smoothing and unifying an ointment, a balance weighs drugs, and a graduate measure quantities. Many words have different meanings, but our name always means — "dependable pharmacy service for medicines, sickroom needs and health-aids."

From The CANYON RIM

Our congratulations to those responsible for the increase in enrollment at West Texas State College for the summer session.

Strengthening summer school has been one of the pet projects of The Canyon News since the present management took over the 66-year-old publication two years ago in August.

It is with a deep sense of satisfaction that we see the enrollment figures piling up. It may be a record summer school session.

In our opinion, Huelyn Laycock of the college staff should come in for a lion's share of praise for what is happening on the WT campus. Laycock has worked diligently publicizing the college in Canyon and over the area.

Laycock has kept in touch with school systems over the Panhandle and South Plains. He is persuading more and more youngsters to come here for an education.

Also to be commended is Vaughn Vandergriff and the Ex-Students Association. No college or university can become great without an independent and aggressive alumni.

Canyon Chamber of Commerce can claim some laurels. The Chamber has been active indeed in promoting summer school. One of the points upon which the Chamber pinned an intensive and successful membership drive several months ago was "promote a stronger summer session at West Texas State College."

This column began plugging for increased offerings at WT summer school more than a year ago. Our reasoning was that not only would it enhance the service to area patrons but also would prove more economical to the taxpayers who must pay for keeping the school here.

Of prime importance is the fact that a stronger summer school will offer more attractive employment to faculty members. This would decrease the turnover in college personnel which, according to information we receive, has been costly to the school in the past.

More use of the expensive school plant also would prove a bargain for the taxpayer.

We have been gratified during the past few months to see the college administration up the offerings for WT summer school 29 percent for the first semester and 19 percent for the second semester. We congratulate Dr. James P. Cornette, president, and Business Manager Virgil Henson for judgement exhibited in this matter.

Both gubernatorial candidates, Jack Cox and John Connally, have voiced personal approval for a separate board of regents for West Texas State.

THE STEEL ISSUE

The President's handling of the steel price increase was an example of merciless Executive efficiency and purpose. The full authority of his office was brought instantly to bear. There was no specific law making it possible for him to force a price roll-back. But, nowadays, the Presidential powers are so vast and subtle that they may have a greater effectiveness than law. So steel, faced also with dissension within the industry, buckled.

As many writers are now pointing out, the President's action has raised an issue of the most far-reaching significance. It goes far beyond the controversial question of whether steel prices should stay where they are, or should be raised, or should be lowered. The issue is, who or what will decide what a price for anything should be -- the forces of the market place, or a man or a small group of men in high positions within the government?

It has been said that the attempted price increase was ill-timed, for a variety of reasons. Perhaps it was. If so, the buyers of steel would have given the industry its come-uppance, by buying more of the metal from foreign sources, or by turning more and more to substitutes. That is the way the free market works.

But this was not allowed to happen. So we have, in effect, price-fixing -- price fixing by iron-handed Executive decision. If that can be done with steel, why can't it be done with everything and anything -- from the price of a head of lettuce to the wages of labor?

POPULAR CERTIFIED HYBRID VARIETIES GROWN, STORED, & PROCESSED ON OUR CLEAN, WELL ISOLATED FARMS

R.S. 610 (7078 x male-sterile combine Kafir) Texas 610 is a 7078 early hybrid. The large semi-dry head is very light red and medium soft in texture. Texas 610 which has shown good increases in yield over several varieties such as Redbine-60 and Martin, has proven to be one of the most popular varieties under all farming conditions.

TEXAS 601 (Tx 04-A Martin cross x male sterile combine Kafir) A good early maturing, dry-headed hybrid. This light red grain has shown good yield increases over Redbine-60 and earlier varieties.

TEXAS 660 (Caprock x male-sterile combine Kafir) Texas 660 is a medium-maturing hybrid. Texas 660 has made many outstanding yields under irrigation. Its uniform combine height and semi-dry head with the high yield potential has made it the most popular variety for irrigation.

R.S. 608 (7078 x MS Martin) A newer variety, probably the earliest of the Texas Hybrids—it has excellent combine characteristics. It outproduces Martin and matures a few days earlier. We recommend R.S. 608 especially for late planting on either irrigated or dry land.

and a problems course in mathematics--were approved by WT's board of regents in February. That was when WT was given permission to seek the approval of the advanced degree.

The additional courses made it possible to offer majors in the three departments toward the M.A. degree.

The new advanced degree program fulfills the provisions of an agreement of mutual assistance signed last December by WT and the Helium Research Center in Amarillo.

One of the provisions in the agreement with the Bureau of Mines was that WT would grant college credit toward academic degrees. Additionally, the college is to provide fellows and students, laboratory equipment and facilities for research.

WT was first authorized to grant master's degrees in 1930.

The college can now bestow M.A.'s in chemistry, physics, mathematics, English, education, economics, government, history, modern languages, music and speech.

It can also grant the Master of Education and the Master of Business Administration degrees.

neural hearing impairment. This occurs when the nerve receptors have been destroyed by fever, noise, disease, or any one of many more disorders.

Sensorineural hearing impairment cannot be helped by surgery or medicine. Unfortunately, when the nerve receptor portion of hearing is destroyed, it cannot regenerate. Surgery is not possible because of the extreme smallness of the delicate mechanism involved.

Someday, we hope that medicine will find a way to help persons with sensorineural hearing impairment. Presently, a hearing aid is the best answer for the person with this hearing difficulty.

Next week, we will consider a "new" hearing aid.

Spencer.

Other Installing Officers for the evening were: Installing Marshall, Mrs. Alleene Leake; Installing Chaplain, Mrs. Faye Cannedy; Installing Organist, Mrs. Cortez Dowlen; Installing Secretary, Mrs. Ruth Shero. Lorry Kiker daughter of the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, was Bible Bearer.

Mint Green, Pink, and Silver, the Worthy Matron's colors, were used in decoration throughout the Hall. The reception table, laid with a white lace cloth over green, was centered with an arrangement of pink roses, presented the Worthy Matron by Mrs. Ruth Shero, and Mrs. Orla Hughes. Mrs. Mary Lee Colclazer presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Nell Mundy registered the guests. Lillian and Lou Ann Cowart, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. O.P. Cowart, furnished special music for the Installation ceremonies.

Dedication Is Slated

The Croson memorial organ will be dedicated during the First Presbyterian Church's 11 a.m. services Sunday.

The organ is a gift from friends of the late Mrs. Mary Croson. It will be used in the balcony as an accompanying instrument for the youth choirs and for pre-service music.

Holy Communion of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated Sunday, which is Pentecost Sunday.

The Rev. John Lars Hamerson, minister, will deliver a table talk entitled "Like Something Was Going To Happen."

Rev. Hamerson and Donald Olson, the ruling elder, will attend the Prebytery of Plains at the First Prebyterian Church in McLean June 16.

MRS. BRIAN LEE TOLIVER

Miss Marcia Nan Barker Becomes Bride Of Tolliver

In a double ring ceremony performed at seven o'clock in the evening at the First Presbyterian Church, Miss Marcia Nan Barker became the bride of Brian Lee Tolliver. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barker of Canyon, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Crannell Tolliver of Canyon.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Lars Hamerson beneath a white archway, entwined with smilax garlands, and flanked by large candelabra in varying styles and alternate heights. Stands of emerald foliage accented with palm stands of jade color formed a background for the bridal party.

Wedding music was offered by Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, who played "Trumpet Tune" by Purcell, the recessional of "O Perfect Love" by Barnby, and traditional wedding selections from Mendelsohn, Shumann, Bach and Gulmant. Mrs. Bruce Winn, soloist, sang "Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap, and the benediction was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Winn.

Miss Gail Eckberg, of Saudi Arabia was maid of honor, and Mrs. William Maidson Sherrill of Shattuck, Okla., was matron of honor. They wore identical gowns of hedge green pure silk organza and taffeta, fashioned in short silhouette. The oval neckline was draped and enhanced by short sleeves. The slim cocktail length skirt featured a full organza overskirt. They wore matching hedge green hats and carried a free flowing cascade bouquets of white carnations accented with English Ivy foliage.

As his best man, Mr. Tolliver had Bobbie Samuelson of Amarillo, and groomsman was Jim Fannin of Canyon. Ushers were Neil Copper, of Hereford, Charles Cooper, John Robert Wheelock, and Steve Thomas, all of Canyon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight tone silk taffeta, fashioned in princess style. Pearl and crystal encrusted Alencon lace formed the short sleeved, stand-up collar, bodice. The dome shaped skirt swept to elaborate side and back fullness, accented on each side by appliques of encrusted lace, and cascaded to a Watteau type Chapel length train. Her veil of imported pure silk illusion fell from a Sweedish crown enrusted with seed pearls. She carried a lace covered white Bible, topped with a white orchid.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church. The reception area was designated with large floor baskets of white gladioli and mums. The reception table was covered with a white and embroidered linen cloth, and centered with a large pyramid arrangement of white butterfly roses.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. J. D. Singleton, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Neil Copper, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. Bobby Samuelson registered the guests. Music was furnished by a String ensemble from Amarillo.

Following the reception, the couple left for Houston where they will be at home at 6414 Weston, Apt. 9. For travelling the bride wore a blue costume suit accented by an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon schools, and attended Trinity University in her college freshman year. For the past two years she has attended the University of Houston, where she will be a senior student in the coming semester.

Mr. Tolliver graduated from Canyon High School where he was valedictorian of the class of 1957. He studied electrical engineering for four years at Rice University, and received his Bachelor of Science Degree on June 2 from the University of Houston. He will continue to do graduate study and work as a graduate assistant in the Computer Center.

Dr. and Mrs. Crannell Tolliver were hosts for a Rehearsal dinner at the Amarillo Country Club at 8 p.m. on June 3, and the bride entertained the wedding party with a luncheon on June 4.

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Kleinschmidt recently visited relatives in Washington D.C. and in Tampa and Miami, Florida. They also visited places of interest along the East coast.

News, Features For The Women

Miss Emmert, Mr. Russell Honored With Reception

A reception honoring Jim E. Russell, and his bride-elect, Miss Susan Emmert, was held on Saturday, June 2 from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J.B. Roberts at 2406 Sixth Avenue. Miss Emmert is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Max Emmert of Houston, and Dr. Russell is the son of Dr. and Mrs. James L. Russell of Canyon. The wedding is scheduled for June 29.

The house was decorated throughout with white majestic daisies and pink sweet heart roses. In the den an arrangement of rustic hued flowers graced the mantle.

The serving table, placed against a mirrored wall, was spread with a white floor-length skirted cloth of lace over organdy. It was centered with an arrangement of net ruffles on a tiered stand, interspersed with white satin rose buds. Satin hearts were entwined with sprigs of stephanotis, and the arrangement topped with white wedding bells. Crystal appointments completed the table decor.

Assisting in serving were Miss Helen White Moore and Miss Pauline Brigham. Miss Judy Roberts presided at the guest book, and Dorothy Higdon offered musical selections during the evening.

Hosts and hostesses for the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Jones, Miss Ima C. Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Laycock, Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Nester and Miss Ruth Cross.

Around The Town

Canyon continues greeting its returning vacationing residents, and bidding good-bye to others. Edna and John Shipley have returned this past week from a trip that included a visit to Old Mexico.

The Rev and Mrs. Strauss Atkinson, and Mayla, left this week to attend the Southern Baptist Convention in San Francisco, California.

Also in California are Betty Markham, Linda and Roy who flew to Las Vegas Sunday where they continued their flight by jet and will visit Betty's family for a month.

Frances Kerbel and her three daughters came in Monday from a trip to Breckenridge, Texas to visit with her family. Joe and the boys remained at home and report a houseful of dishes greeted the travellers when they returned home.

Mrs. William Sherril (nee Margaret Johnson) has been a house guest of the A.B. Holts this week. Margaret was matron of honor in Marcia Nan Barker's wedding last Monday night.

Also in Canyon for the Barker-Tolliver wedding was Gail Eckberg, of Saudi Arabia,. Gail was Marcia Nan's roommate at the University of Houston.

Grace and Dave Mathis had as house guests this week Grace's brother and his wife, Bill and Joe Ann Babham, from Denton.

Korkye Martin, and the three young Martins, left Monday for a visit to Dallas where they will visit Korkye's sister.

Shirley Howse and her husband were here briefly to leave their youngster with her mother, Mrs. Newton Harrell, while they took a short vacation.

If any of you know arrivals or departures that would be of interest, please contact the News office, as we would like to share the knowledge with everyone.

Hill Visits Father

Joe (Boy) F. Hill, son of Dr. J. A. Hill, spent the weekend in the Hill home. Also, Mrs. Lemore (Marion) Hill and sons John, Davis and Bill visited in the parental home Sunday.

Joe was en route to Los Angeles where he has accepted a position in the Air Research Division of the Garrett Corporation. He has been with a similar company at Columbus, Ohio, for 11 years and prior to that was with Douglas at Santa Monica, California. At his new post he will be staff engineer for Special Projects.

His family will visit Canyon later this month

The Canyon Mothers-in-law Club has postponed the June picnic. The picnic will be planned later in the summer.

Judy Bourland, who will instruct a Charm Class, explains the schedule to Iris Hales and Judy Frank. The Class, part of a Homemaking Workshop, is being conducted this summer by the Homemaking Dept. of the High School. --Staff Photo

Homemaking Workshop Set

A Charm Class has been scheduled to meet each Monday from 9-11:30 a.m. in the Homemaking Department at the High School. Judy Bourland, who has recently completed a charm course under Mickey McDonald in Amarillo, will teach the course here in Canyon. This course is being offered especially for high school junior and senior girls, but is open to anyone who is interested.

The course includes: Beauty Routine and Beauty Diet; standing and Pivoting; Exercising to put pounds where they should be; Make Up and Individual modeling. The schedule is to include demonstrations and time for exercising to give the girls a background for continuing the program.

Three lessons will cost a dollar for each individual. The hours can be counted toward hours for summer experiences in the Home Making Department of High School.

The schedule is as follows:

June 11, Charm Class, 9-11 a.m.

June 12, Hat Clinic, 9:30-11:30 a.m.

June 13, Shoe Clinic, 9:30-11:30 a.m.

June 19, Corsage and Flower Arrangement Clinic, 9:30-11:30 a.m.

June 20, Clothing Workshop, 9:30-11:30 a.m.

June 21, Fun with Food and Swim afterward in Blue Flame Room, 12:30-4 p.m.

June 27, Latest on Freezing Foods, 2:30-3:30 p.m.

All clothing workshops will continue until the garments are completed.

MR. AND MRS. TED F. SWINDLE

Ayers-Swindle Wedding Told

Miss Marilyn Ayers became the bride of Ted F. Swindle in a ceremony which took place in Plainview on the evening of May 11.

For her wedding, the bride chose a blue suit ensemble, accented with white accessories. She wore a corsage of feathered white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter Williams, and Miss Norma Draper attended the bridal couple.

Mrs. Swindle teaches fourth grade in the Hale Center North Elementary School, and will receive her final teaching degree at West Texas State College this summer. Mr. Swindle is a former English major at West Texas State.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Helmick and children of Yukon, Oklahoma, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Helmick's mother, Mrs. J. C. Dodd. The Helmicks are on their way to California for a vacation that will last about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dodd also visited in Mrs. Dodd's home Wednesday evening.

Mary Agnes Hoffman To Wed In Umbarger

MISS MARY HOFFMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Max Hoffman of Umbarger announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Agnes, to Darroll Joseph Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Adams of Stratford, Oklahoma.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Visage announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Lula Visage Meyers, to R. M. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Petry of Abilene, announce the birth of a daughter, Rebecca Lyn, on May 5. Mr. Petry is the Director of Religious Education at Hardin-Simmons University. Mrs. Petry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Cunningham of Canyon. The couple has one other child, a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, 17 months old.

Bill and Nancy Cunningham of Canyon, whose fourth son, Andrew Allen, was born on May 2, made the Senior Cunninghams grandparents twice in three days.

MissGruner OnKGNC

Cindy Gruner, daughter of Forrest Gruner, will be featured on the Ruth Brent Show on KGNC Channel 4 today. Miss Gruner won first place in the regional 4-H food demonstration contest and will give a Dairy food demonstration on television.

She was declared ineligible to attend the state meet because she is a junior.

Spanish Supper Held

Mrs. Robert Hernandez entertained with a Spanish supper last week for Father James A. Comiskey, who has left St. Ann's Church to prepare himself for work in South America. Some 10 priests, including two from Chicago, were among the guests.

C Of C President Says Clean City Rates

One of the best ways to attract new business to Canyon is for all of us to do well in the Clean-Up Paint-Up Fix-Up campaign now going on, Carroll Vaughan, president of the Chamber of Commerce, says.

"New industry is attracted to a community which has a reputation of being progressive, clean and healthy," he says. "A clean, attractive city or town rates high because it is apparent that its citizens are interested in better living.

"Needless to say," Vaughan continued, "we want new business and industry in Canyon. The Clean-Up Paint-Up Fix-Up campaign is one way of attaining this goal."

He added, "As our community improves its appearance, reduces health hazards, cuts fire losses and shows the world a cleaner face, it will be apparent to everyone that our citizens are progressive.

"There will be an increase in economic activity and tourists will be attracted by our beauty and cleanliness. They'll stop here for lunch while driving through or even remain for a day or two. And this means that they'll spend money in our community.

"It's good business for everyone of us and an investment in the future to participate in the Clean-Up campaign and make it a success. If we can win the National Cleanest Town Award in our population class, we will really put Canyon on the map."

Installation Rites Honor Lynne Larson

Lynne Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Larson, was installed as Worthy Advisor of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls, Canyon Assembly #214 on Thursday, May 31.

Lynne's colors chosen for decoration, were apricot and white, and her flower was the gardenia. She wore a white floor length formal of net and lace over taffeta.

As her theme, Lynne had "Sacrifice", and her symbol was the lamb. The Scripture she selected was from St. Matthew 10:8, "Freely Ye have received; freely give." Her song was "I am Not Worthy."

Installing Officers were: Installing Officer, Frances Kiker; Chaplain, Cheryl McClure; Recorder, Lynda Troth; Marshal, Karen Brewster; Musician, Mary Ann Wheelock.

Other officers installed were: Worthy Associate Advisor, Gloria Buchanan; Charity, Carol Brown; Hope, Dana Anderson; Faith, Elaine Loudder; Drill Leader, Judy Clark; Chaplain, Charlotte Clark; Confidential Observer, Linda Hand; Outer Observer, Lorry Kiker; Choir Director, Kathy Doyle; Musician, Lou Ann Cowart; Love, Joyce Loudder; Religion, Janet Haggard; Nature, Gail Stevens; Immortality, Deadra Shapley; Fidelity, Terri Blasdel; Patriotism, Susie Reese; Service, Jackie Ziegler.

Mrs. Santa Clark is Mother Advisor of the Canyon Assembly; Frances Kiker, Recorder; and Mary Ann Wheelock, Treasurer.

The line officers presented Lynne with an apricot satin pillow to which was pinned a lamb and a gardenia. Each spoke a verse to her. Lillian and Lou Ann Cowart accompanied by Mary Ann Wheelock sang "I Am Not Worthy".

Lynne's parents were introduced and escorted to the East, where she presented them with a gift of Italian pottery.

Other special guests presented were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Curtis, her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Johnson, of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Foster, Gary Foster, Nadine Burrow, Mrs. R.A. Neblett, Mrs. Lee Foster, Dr. Leta Boswell, Mrs. A.A. Clark, Bill Phillips and Judy Bourland.

For the social hour following the ceremonies, the serving table was laid with a white net over white taffeta cloth, trimmed with ribbons of apricot satin. The centerpiece of white gardenias and apricot highlighted the appointments.

Wilsons Host Guests

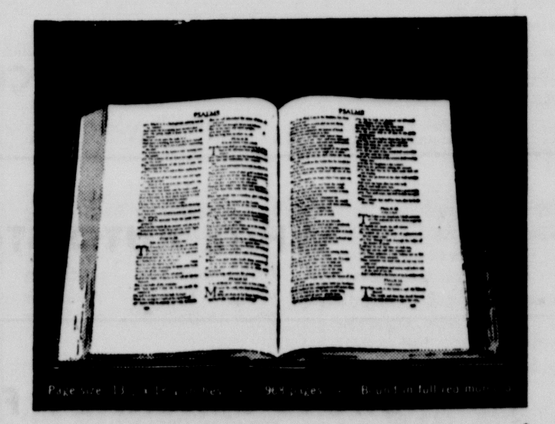

Visiting in the P.M. Wilson home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Hamill Wilson and Joyce and Warren of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wilson of Amarillo; E.J. Duncan and son Cody of Hereford; Mrs. Robert Groves of Hereford; Mrs. Paul Groves and daughter Susie of Stinnett and Bennie Britan of Stinnett.

Big Bend National Park in Texas contains more than 700,000 acres.

Clean All Surfaces

Surfaces to be painted should be sound, clean, smooth, and if they are metal - free from rust. A little time invested in careful preparation results in a more attractive and longer lasting paint job.

Screws which are rusty or tight can be removed by heating the head of the screw with a soldering iron and turning with a screwdriver while still hot.

Consultants

Six keynote speakers and consultants will appear before students taking a geography course--"Conservation of Natural Resources"--at West Texas State College this summer.

They are Guy Nutt, area conservationist; Leon Hill, Bureau of Reclamation; Tom McFarland, general manager of the HighPlains Underground Water Conservation District 1.

T.D. Carroll, coordinator of Information and Education of the Game and Fish Commission; Jack Rolfe, Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association; and D.C. Stevens, Panhandle Forest Unit.

One of them will appear each week and outline phases of conservation.

The senior level geography course will be offered during the first term only, Dr. M.B. Measamer, head of the department said.

Also to be offered during the first term are beginning courses and one in global geography. An advance course in grography of Anglo America will be conducted during the second term.

Use Crack Filler

Remember to use crack filler when preparing a surface for refinishing. All gouged places in floors, furniture or woodwork must be filled and leveled off. Cracks in plaster should be filled with sparkling compound or patching plaster.

Utilize Aluminum

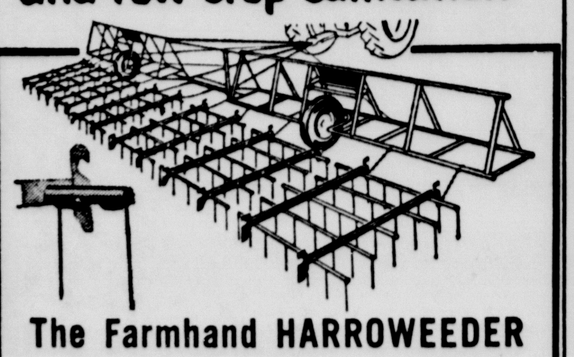

If you're going to use paint from its original container, wrap some aluminum foil around the paint can and set it on top of a paper plate or old pie tin. Any runs will be caught by the foil and plate and your paint can will stay clean.

Fast, efficient soil preparation and row crop cultivation

The Farmhand HARROWEEDER with unique VIBRACOIL ACTION

THE HARROWEEDER is a dual-purpose machine . . . an amazingly efficient harrow and a fast row-crop cultivator that beats anything ever used in corn, soybeans, cotton, small grains, sorghums and sugar beets. Here, from one dependable unit, you get the speed and efficiency that pays off in more bushels, cleaner fields, less time spent in the field.

THE EXCLUSIVE "vibracoil" action of the specially tempered coil-spring teeth penetrates deeper, turns soil up from underneath, preserves sub-soil moisture. The Harroweeder is available in 15 to 55 ft. widths, and it quickly folds to 7 ft. for easy transport.

CHS Football Depends On Kids, Coach Says

Webb Sees Light Team For School

Head Coach Jeep Webb figures Canyon High School will have a "pretty good football club if the kids come through."

"If the kids make up their minds to play," he said, "then they'll do us a fine job. If not, then they'll leave us holding the bag."

Coach Webb isn't banking on size to get the job done.

"We do have some tall, rangey boys," he says, "but we don't have much weight. Our heaviest will weigh only 205 pounds--and he'll be on the B team."

Seven lettermen are returning. The Eagles lost eight boys to graduation this year and 21 more will be seniors next year.

Coach Webb apparently will lose three other lettermen and a B team member for one reason or another.

End Gary Lee has married, and tackle Tim White and B Fullback Jeryl Vance are moving away from Canyon.

Coach Webb said Elmer Oberst, who was moved from the backfield to the line last year, isn't expected to suit up this fall.

Coach Webb also released the 1962 schedule. The "H" denoted a home game and last year's score, if the teams played, is in parenthesis, with CHS first:

Sept. 7--Dimmitt--H--8 p.m. (0-16).
Sept. 14--Hereford -- H--8 p.m. (0'19)
Sept. 21 --Dalhart --8 p.m. (15-45)
Sept. 28--Phillips -- H--8 p.m. (0-24).
Oct. 5--Sunray--8 p.m. (46-6)
Oct. 12--Stinnett--8 p.m.
Oct. 19--Lockney --H-- 7:30 p.m.
Oct. 26 --Tulia-- 7:30 p.m. (28-20)
Nov. 2--Open

Lowe, Curtis Take Golf Tournament At City Club

Keith Lowe and Jimmy Curtis won the Scotch foursome tournament at the Canyon City Club with a new score of 129.

Lowe and Curtis compiled a gross count of 161 but their 32-stroke handicap shaved it to the 129.

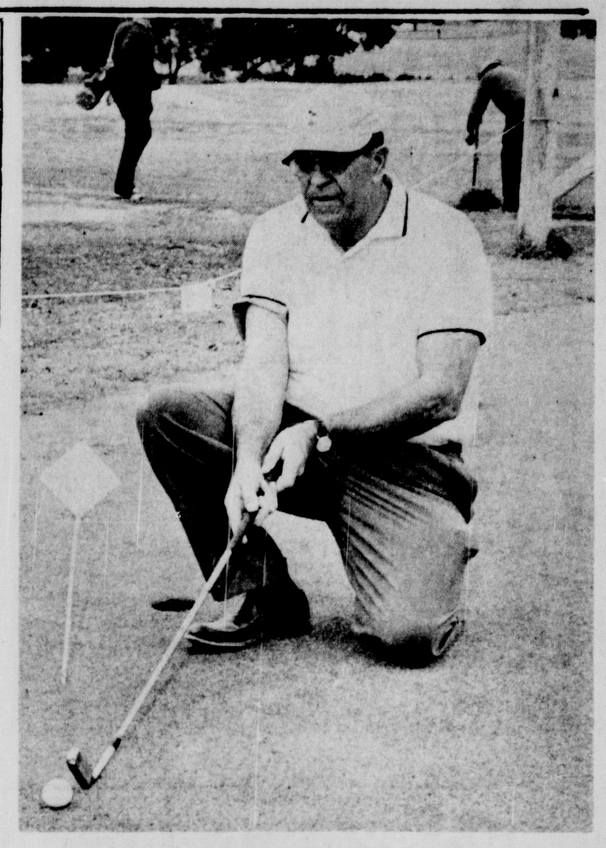

John Whinnery and Bill Haggard were second with a net 138--their gross was 150 with a 12-stroke handicap--and Roy Forehand and Dave Lipscomb were third.

Their combined total was 139 net, based on a gross of 185 with a 46-stroke handicap.

Another tournament--this one match play--is on tap June 16-17. The entry deadline is June 15 and the entry fee is $3.00

Three prizes will be awarded in each flight.

Putting tourneys are held at the club each Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Youth Invited To Ball Camps

The Houston Colt 45s of the National baseball league invite Canyon young baseball hopefuls to attend one of its tryout camps this summer.

The first will be in Alice June 14-16, the second in Tyler June 28-29 and the third in Rockdale July 5-7.

"Youngsters attending the camps must be between the ages of 15 and 25," Bill Giles, publicity director, said.

Each youngster will furnish his own glove, baseball shoes and uniform and pay his own expenses. All signed players however, will be reimbursed.

White Sox Take Giants, 15-8

Runs were as popular as rain Saturday as the White Sox squeleched the Giants, 15-8.

The important inning for the victors was the sixth, when the Sox scored 13 runs on 8 hits. That was the biggest inning for any team in Babe Ruth League play to date.

The White Sox counted 12 hits against the Giants' 9.

Phillies Tops

The Phillies of the Minor League have posted three wins against no defeats this season, a record which can't be matched by any other club in the loop.

They've whipped the Cubs, 12-5; the Indians, 14-7; and the Tigers, 20-3.

Pirates Coast To Easy 15-2 Win Over Giants

The Pirates scored 10 big runs in the top of the first and coasted to an easy 15-2 win over the Giants in a Babe Ruth League baseball game.

Spotty fielding on the part of the Giants opened the gates for the Pirates in the first stanza. After that, the Giants never really got into the game.

The Pirates Dennis Haley made probably the outstanding play of the season in the bottom of the third. He grabbed a long fly off the bat of James Evans and then threw Bill Long out at the plate with a perfect toss to Catcher, David Rossi.

Giant Pitcher James Evans got stronger in the latter innings and fanned Mark Lair with the bases loaded in the fourth. He struck out the Pirates 1-2-3 in the bottom of the sixth.

Larry Pitt was the pitching hero, giving up only three knocks--one to Bruce Winn, Jack Stephens and James Evans. Each hit came in a separate inning.

Junior Deputies Set Play Day June 24

Russell Fans 13; Team Wins

Ronnie Russell of the Major League Braves fanned 13 batters Monday as his team whipped the Redlegs, 5-1.

The game was scoreless until the fifth inning, when both teams scored a run. The Braves added four more in the sixth.

The winners counted four hits and an error. The Redlegs managed a pair of hits and the same number of errors.

Thrasher was the losing pitcher.

Dodgers Down Braves, 18-5

The Major League Dodgers scored 18 runs off of 14 hits Saturday and overwhelmed the Braves, 18-5.

Albracht was the winning pitcher and Howard Gidden was chalked up with the loss.

Pirates Whip Happy, 12-6

The Babe Ruth Pirates defeated Happy, 12-6, Saturday in the first league of the season for Canyon's neighbor to the south.

David Rossi was credited with the win and Culp was the losing pitcher.

Happy counted three hits, the Pirates 7.

The newly-organized club gave a good account of itself despite the loss. League officials expect the team to be a good contender once it works into the challenges of loop play.

Bouncing For Bass

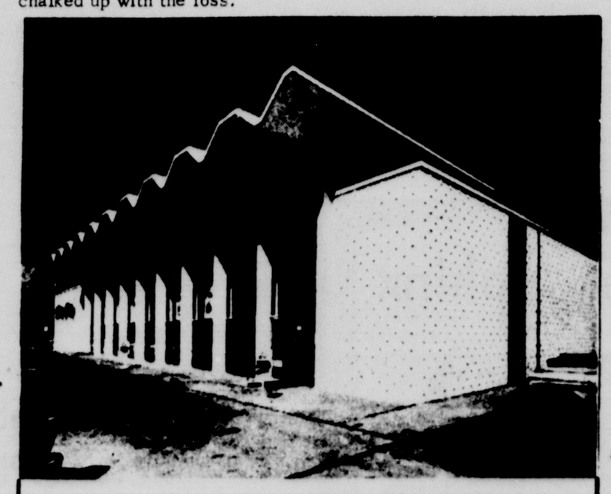

When bottom bouncing for bass you will catch more fish if you handle your lure in such a way that it rolls up the bottom sand and mud.

Such action attracts more fish than does a straight retrieve and bounce.

4-H Club Girls Address Group

History of light was traced by two 4-H Club members last week at a regular meeting of the Canyon Lions Club.

On the program were Linda Metcalf and Lucy Tucek, members of Canyon's West Side 4-H Club.

The girls are tutored by Miss Sally Ann Field, county home demonstration agent, and Joan Loftis, home economist for Southwestern Public Service Company.

Farm Board To Meet

The Randall County Farm Bureau Board of Directors will meet at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Farm Bureau Building, President R. B. Gist, Jr., has announced.

Crop Cutting Interrupted

Rin and cool weather interrupted harvest operations in Randall County earlier this week.

The Wheat Harvest Control Office also reported the state harvest is expected to be much lower than last year.

"Crop conditions reported by the United States Department of Agriculture as of May 1, 1962, indicated a Texas harvest of 55,360,000 bushels as compared with 84,870,000 bushels harvested in 1961," the office said.

No shortage of men or equipment is expected in Randall.

CROP Is Conducting County Wheat Drive

The Christian Rural Overseas Program is conducting a wheat collection drive in Randall County.

The county committee has set a goal of one carload--some 2,000 bushels--during the week-long drive which ends Saturday.

The wheat will be used for overseas relief and rehabilitation through the churches.

John Hammond is chairman of the CROP board, Donald Olson is vice-chairman and B. F. Sparks is secretary.

Board members are Conway Kuykendall, commodity manager; John Brazzil publicity director; Strauss Atkinson, promotion; R.B. Gist, Jr., campaign director; and Don Standley, treasurer.

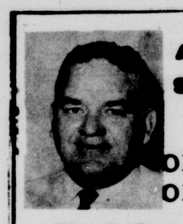

The final report on the drive will be made Monday.

Team captains are directing the drive in their respective communities.

They are Roger Dugan and Bruce Winn, Canyon; Erwin Davis and Pete Leavitt, Jowell; Joe B. Wise and Lewell Johnston, Sunnyhill-Fairview; Raymond Batenhorse, Umbarger; J.I. Fletcher, Park-Stone; Forrest Gruner, Trigg-Zita; and John Plank and Roger Roach, Bushland-Highland.

Brazzil said wheat growers may make a contribution to CROP by signing a pledge card which gives grain elevators authority to hold out a specified amount of wheat.

Distribution will be made overseas through established church groups.

Cable Installed Towards Lake

Almost two-and-a-half miles of burried telephone cable has been installed between Umbarger and Buffalo Lake.

The Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., said the new cable will provide graded service for the Wildlife Commission offices, the lake concessionaire, a pay station at the lake and the Flying Mare Ranch.

"The cable has additional pairs to accomodate any future growth that might occur along the road between Umbarger and the lake," the cooperative said.

18,943 Persons Visit Palo Duro

Exactly 18,943 visitors were counted in Palo Duro Canyon State Park in April.

The State Parks Board reported 4,009 cars with Texas license tags and 1,017 with out-of-state plates were counted.

There were 868 overnight campers and 18,080 daytime visitors in the park.

YOU CHOOSE THE DOOR - WE'LL SUPPLY THE KEY

A door to a home can be as individual as a name. When you are ready to build or buy the home of your dreams, let us help you finance it. Why us? The reasons are many, but let's concentrate on the most significant ones:

First, we are specialists in home financing. By "specialists," we mean that we have a long and eminently successful history of home financing — a history that has taught us the ins and outs of the sometimes delicate mechanics of this important business. Second, we have a splendid working relationship with realtors, builders, architects, and other artisans of the construction world. We have built this professional partnership carefully and well. It benefits you. Third, we are justifiably proud of the speed with which we can process your home loan. This saves you money as well as anxiety. And fourth — well, we could go on, but why should we? You get the picture. If you want a fast, secure, conveniently financed home loan, see us soon, won't you?

History Of Palo Duro Canyon State Park Is Related

More than 400 years ago, Coronado and his company stood on the rim of Palo Duro Canyon; or a hundred years before the Pilgrim Fathers landed on Plymouth Rock. Palo Duro is the Spanish name of a cedar brush growing in the Canyon which the Indians used for bows and arrows, so the name means hardwood. Purchased as a state park in the 1930's and modernized by the CCC during the depression, the park comprises 15,103 acres; is said to be about 120 miles long, 20 miles wide at the breadth of it and 1200 feet deep.

The natives love to think of it as the Grand Canyon of Texas. The comparison seems a little strained at some points, but Palo Duro is well worth a visit. The Grand Canyon is a mile deep while Palo Duro is 1200 feet. A hard surfaced road carries one in comfort through the interesting spots in the Texas canyon, while only sure-footed mules wind their way down the precipices of Arizona's big ditch.

The two are similar in one respect: You are driving along on a flat terrain wondering when you will reach canyon territory, and suddenly there it is yawning up at you from out of the earth. Erosion is evident. In Arizona the wild Colorado river roars down the bottom, barely visible from a few points at the top, where it looks like a small creek. While in Palo Duro one crosses the Prairie Dog Fork of Red River time and again, without benefit of a bridge. You just ford it.

The Arizona canyon is a phenomenon of nature not only in size but in coloring. In midday it is a big hole in the ground, when its grandeur is only in its immense size. Its coloring is obtained from the atmosphere, during a thunderstorm on in a early morn or late afternoon.

Palo Duro is a burst of bright and unusual colors at all times. Color experts are said to have charted 29 distinct shades of clay peculiar to this area and hundreds of blends derived mainly from Triassic and Permian formations, indicating various mineral contents in the soil. At first glance it would appear to be a potter's paradise, but how to fire the clay without changing its color is said to be a major problem.

A haven of water, shade, and shelter, Palo Duro Canyon harbored eleven Indian villages when Coronado and his troops paused in 1541 in their search for the Seven Cities of Cibolo and the promised gold.

In the years following Coronado's visit, the villages prospered. Arrowhead makers found plentiful supply of flint; they chipped each arrowhead to perfection basking where they could observe the villages. Arrow makers found strong "hard wood" from which to carve their arrows. Women ground mesquite beans, meat, and corn in mortars dug in huge boulders. The hunters killed buffalo, deer, bear, and other game to provide meat, clothing, and leather.

In the 17th and 18th centuries, various Spanish missionaries followed the footsteps of Fray Juan de Pedilla to visit the villages of Palo Duro.

Scouts and explorers travelled through Palo Duro Canyon. Early pioneers crossed the Canyon, leaving marked graves bearing the date 1809.

In 1849, with the beginning of the Gold Rush to California, traffic through Palo Duro Canyon increased.

It was Captain R.B. Marcy, leader and pathfinder for exploration expeditions for the government through Indian territory, who first discovered that there were two main branches of the Red River, while hunting its headwaters. It was at this time that Palo Duro Canyon and Palo Duro Creek--the Prairie Dog Fork of the Red River--were charted.

Between 1849 and 1872, Palo Duro Canyon became trading grounds and hideout for the "comancheros"--Mexican and Indian "traders" from Santa Fe, Chihuahua, and border regions who met during the "Comanche moon" to swap stolen goods, cattle, horses, and trade prisoners seized from Texas forts and settlements. The "comanchero" trails led from Las Linguas through Palo Duro Canyon, to Amarillo, and to Tascosa on the Canadian River, thence to New Mexico.

"Comancheros" raided wagon trains returning from the California Gold Rush and hid their loot in Palo Duro Canyon.

Comanchero trade ended when the Indians of the Great Plains were corraled onto Territorial reserves in Oklahoma.

It was Col. Dandal MacKenzie and his troops in 1872 who followed the comanchero trail northward, in search of traders. Enroute, Col. MacKenzie captured Joe Piedo Tafola--one of the main Mexican traders. Tafola "no sabe" the whereabouts of the Indian traders until MacKenzie propped up a wagon tongue and hung Tafola until he was ready to talk.

Tafola led MacKenzie to the Indian camps in the recesses of Palo Duro Canyon.

It was there among the shadowy boulders of Smoky Rock Gardens (of present day Palo Duro Park) that MacKenzie's troops fought the Indians in the famous battle of the Palo Duro--the last of the Indian fights in Texas. This battle followed the bloody sequence of the battles of Adobe Walls, Buffalo Wallow, and the Tule Canyon.

Thus, the Comanche, Kiowa, Arapaho, and Cheyenne tribes left their happy camping grounds in the shady canyon of "hard wood."

In 1876, Colonel Charles Goodnight, who had been one of the scouts for Cureton's Texas Rangers, returned to The Canyon with his wife, a few cowboys and approximately 2000 head of Texas Longhorns to begin the first commercial cow ranch in The Canyon. A few years later he formed a partnership with John Adair of Wrathdair, Ireland and one of the greatest ranches of this area was begun.

One of the original "Goodnight" dugouts is located near the present day Water crossing Number 1 and has been partially restored by one of the ladies clubs of The Panhandle.

Goodnight ran cattle and buffalo in Palo Duro Canyon, developing the JA ranch until it was a 600,000 acre pasture grazing 60,000 head of cattle. He moved his ranch headquarters to Quitaque in 1888 when he and Adair dissolved partnership. The old JA ranch is still managed for the estate.

Some types of vegetation in Palo Duro Canyon are of outstanding interest to the tourist.

The handsome Chinaberry tree with its white flowers and golden oval berries hanging in wax-like clusters in the soapberry tree or Sapindus marginatus.

The lofty shade-giving cottonwood tree is a species of willow kin to the poplar and aspen.

The sagebrush, which takes on a silvery sheen in moonlight, varies from a dwarfed shrub to almost tree-like proportions.

The handsome yucca--or beargrass--with its clusters of creamish yellow bells above its sword-like leaves, has been hailed by poets as "God's lanterns" on the prairies. Indians used the sun-cured inner leaves of the yucca in ornamental basketry.

Species of flowers in Palo Duro Canyon cover almost the entire list of wild flowers of the southwest. Spring is heralded by buttercups, daisies of all sorts, the colorful Indian Blanket, larkspur, blue bells, prairie roses, and innumerable other wild flowers. Some of the flowers bloom throughout the spring, summer, and fall seasons. The best display of large numbers of flowers in bloom its in late May and June.

No doubt about it--the birds definitely like Palo Duro Canyon. Over 200 species of birds have been catalogued and classified in the Canyon. A list of the birds was compiled by Mary Moss Richardson and is in the library of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum for those who are interested particularly in bird lore.

Outstanding among the birds is the golden eagle who builds his nest on high cliffs. Favorite home of the eagle in Palo Duro Canyon is along Fortress Cliffs and between those cliffs and Cedar Springs. This eagle lives off small animals such as rabbit. He is dark drown with a purple gloss; his head and neck are brownish-yellow.

El Coronado Lodge is open the year-around. It is headquarters for souvenirs, sandwiches, cold drinks, and coffee. Huge telescopes at the picture windows afford a close-up view of Canyon formations. Museum cases, pictures, paintings, geological oddities, and other displays are featured at El Coronado Lodge.

A limited number of native stone and cedar cabins are available at Palo Duro Canyon for overnight visitors. Arrangements for the cabins are made at the El Coronado Lodge. The Rim Cabins located near El Coronado Lodge are modern. Cow Camp Cabins, eight miles down in the Canyon, are semi-modern.

There are picnic units scattered throughout Palo Duro Canyon with the best overnight campground located on Old Kiowa and Comanche Indian campsites near drinking water and restrooms at the first creek crossing.

Camping supplies, groceries, film and other equipment are available at El Coronado Lodge and at Number One Crossing.

Horses from the Palo Duro string are safe and have been trained to the Canyon trails.

Breath-taking Coronado Trail winds to the floor of the Canyon along the trail used by Coronado and his troops in 1541, and continues into Big Sunday Canyon where it forks off to Devil's Tombstone, the Lighthouse, Capitol Peak and other points of interest.

The old Comanche Trail follows the eastern side of the Canyon to Indian Springs and Cow Camp, going through colorful Smoky Rock Gardens.

The Kiowa Trail begins at the foot of the Triassic Peak and crosses high mesas returning to the stables via Coronado Lodge.

Milk Food Old

Milk is one of mankind's oldest known foods, with records showing that cows were milked as long ago as 9000 B.C. The word "milk" is derived from the Sanskrit "jrjati" which described the action of milking.

Milk For Pitchers

More Roads To Be Built

Eight-and-a-half miles of additional highway construction --mostly in Randall County-- has been announced by the Texas Highway Department.

Charles W. Smith, district highway engineer at Amarillo, said the work will cost $135,-641 and is expected to be completed in about 50 days.

The construction will begin two miles north of Canyon on U. S. Highways 60 and 87 and continue 8.3 miles north.

The remainder will consist of .2 miles at the intersection of U. S. 66 and that highway's business route.

Gilvin-Terrill, Inc., of Amarillo received the contract under its low bid, the department said.

Canyon, West Texas Are Described In Article

Driving due north from Lubbock, just minutes before reaching Amarillo city limits, is located a thriving town of 6,000, county seat of Randall, called Canyon. Twelve miles east of Canyon is Palo Duro Canyon, while the city itself boasts one of the most progressive state colleges, West Texas State, and the Panhandle-Plains Museum on its campus.

The townsite was laid out in 1887, Randall County was organized in 1889 with Canyon named as County Seat. Sitting 3600 feet above sea level, it has an average rainfall of about 20 inches; average temperature of 57, has thirteen churches, one hospital and is 12 miles from Buffalo Lake.

Agriculture, dairying and ranching provide $12 million annually to this county that is rich in historical and educational advantages. More than 100,000 acres of wheat in Randall County helps provide "Golden bread for the Golden Spread," and grain sorghums are fast becoming a number one cash crop. More than 55 dairies bring in a million cash dollars each year, and ranching is accomplished in every style ranging from half-section stock-farms to 20 section ranches.

By Bill R. Lee
Director of Information
West Texas State College

Transition from a college which a few years ago operated primarily on a morning schedule, to one which makes use of its classroom and laboratory facilities throughout the day and part of the night as well, has reached completion at West Texas State College in Canyon. After the completion of the Amarillo-Canyon Expressway in December 1960, the evening branch of West Texas State, which had operated since 1942 in a large private home in Amarillo, was moved to the campus in Canyon at the start of the Spring Semester late in January, where full advantage might be taken of ample classroom facilities. With expanding enrollment, the schedule of afternoon classes has increased almost to the point that a student might feasibly take a normal load in the afternoons alone.

Expansion of the evening program began immediately with the move from Amarillo, with addition to the curriculum of several courses in chemistry, biology, physics, geology, Bible and other fields which could not be offered night students heretofore.

The move toward a "round-the-clock" schedule is facilitated each year because of steadily increasing enrollment, with a new high of more than 2,600 full-time day students registered during the Fall Semester of 1961. The drop, usually quite strong each year in Spring enrollment at most colleges, was only slight on the West Texas State campus.

Through the past decade, West Texas State has more than doubled in enrollment, and its physical plant value has increased from about $2,000,000 to more than $12,000,000.

Major changes have been made in all phases of West Texas State's appearance since 1948, when Dr. James P. Cornette became the institution's third president. Besides the growth of the student body, most noticeable changes have come in the physical appearance of the campus. Of the college's 19 major buildings, all but three have been constructed or modified significantly by major additions within the past ten years. More recent additions, opened in the Fall of 1960, were two new dormitories and a new student union building. A million dollar fine arts building and an addition which doubled the capacity of the science building was occupied in the Fall of 1959. Not classified as a building, but making a considerable mark toward progress for the institution, is the modern 20,000 seat football stadium which has been in use for the past two seasons. The $900,000 bowl replaced a small 30-year old athletic field in the center of the campus which was marked for removal to make way for new classroom strutures planned for the near future.

Since its founding in 1910 as a state normal college, West Texas State College has excelled in the training of teachers. Witness to its effectiveness, more than half of the teachers in the Panhandle of Texas have received degrees or some of their training at West Texas State. Incorporating the first training school in the state back in the early 1920's, West Texas State continues to hold a leadership role in teacher education. Completing this year a two-year experiment in student teaching, through a grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education, West Texas State will continue programs for improvement of teacher education.

Exceeding the programs in teacher education, from the standpoint of enrollment, are the various major offerings in the School of Business. Students seeking the B.A. or B.S. in business, or the B.B.A. and M.B.A. degrees may major in a number of specialized fields, such as accounting, insurance, transportation, and marketing. Limited specialties, however, is not of primary importance to West Texas State, for students may major in about two dozen fields, ranging from art and agriculture to the liberal arts courses, sciences, languages, music, and journalism. Minors may be earned in a number of other fields including Bible.

West Texas State has long been noted for its strong pre-professional fields, including pre-medicine, law, nursing, and engineering. For more than a decade, all the pre-medical students of West Texas State's sciences division, who have been recommended by the faculty, have been accepted by medical schools throughout the nation.

Typists are Lynn Larson and Gloria Buchanan. Randy Warren is the assistant photographer and Jan Jennings and Rose Mary Ennis are the staff artists.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Diversion terraces have been built on the Roy E. McGee farm and on the L.H. Crawford farm. Terraces on the Crawford farm were repaired and rebuilt. One terrace was built on the McGee farm below the diversion. These structures were built to stop the land from washing and gullying.

Tanks were built on the Lane McAfee ranch and also on the Ross Renfrow ranch in Potter County. These were built to help insure uniform grazing.

Pipelines for irrigation have been designed and installed on these farms.

Jack R.C. Vincent, C.B. Rittenberry, Frances Friemel, Ethel LaRoe, E.T. Winters, A. S. Hamblen, A.W. Lair, J.D. Menke, H.H. Ladehoff, and George Cope.

The purpose of these underground irrigation systems is to save water and help the farmer get the right amount of water when and where he needs it.

They will also stop erosion in fast ditches and eliminate ditch loss from seepage and evaporation.

If you need any assistance on an irrigation system, diversion, terrace system, range or other conservation planning, contact the Soil Conservation Service.

"Modern?" That's like when you've got Gas Air Conditioning!

"Modern" is a real hard word to explain. Like, fr' instance, if you were talking about the "newest" in Summer comfort — the Sun Valley Gas air conditioner. It's the "most" in Summer comfort, because the air is the "coolest," and "cleanest" and stays that way when it's "hottest" outside. You might say it's the "economical'est," too, because it uses low-cost, dependable GAS. And no moving parts in the heating or cooling cycles make it the "maintenance free'est" of any unit on the market. So I guess you'd say "modern" ends everything with an "est," like the Sun Valley does.

KING-SIZED FILTER
Mama says it'll be all right for daddy to stay in the house to smoke his cigar now, thanks to Sun Valley's new twice-as-big filters.

BUDGET-SIZED ECONOMY
Mama says it's never too soon to learn the dollars and sense facts about utility bills. She says "constant efficiency" means it keeps you cool all the time, and doesn't cost any more when it gets hot.

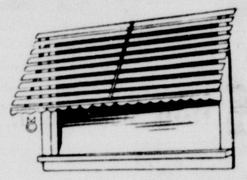

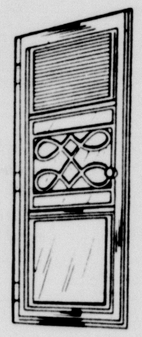

NO MOVING PARTS
Sun Valley works like a coffee percolator, and who ever heard of a percolator wearing out?

Beauty Shopping At WTSC

Here she is, gents, the lead off gal for the summer parade of beauties at West Texas State College. Assuming you're wondering, the name is Carol Coffey, who's 17, a freshman in pre-nursing, is from Friona, lives in Cousins Hall and, happily, single. You can make your best impression by (1) offering her steak for dinner and (2) taking her swimming. --Staff Photo

The greatest triumph in the history of 25 years of agitation for a state park in the Palo Duro canyon occurred Sunday when more than 25,000 sightseers and park devotees were present at the formal opening of the Palo Duro Park located 13 miles south and east of Canyon, and spent the day amid colorful scenery.

Volunteer wheat and early planted wheat are ripening rapidly and harvest is expeted to begin in about two weeks. Most farmers are of the opinion that rain would not help the wheat at this late date. The late wheat, oats and barley are practically all a failure because of this spring's continued dry weather.

Black Offers List For City Campaign

Have you been wondering what specific contributions you can make during Canyon's summer-long clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign?

Roland Black, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, offers this check list:

1. Stairways. See to it they are uncluttered and well-lighted, with sturdy hand rails and sound treads. Paint cellar steps a light color so they'll be easily visible.

2. Old newspapers. These, along with old magazines, unused furniture and old clothing in good condition, should be removed from basement, attic and garage and contributed to your favorite charity.

3. Electrical wiring. Check that your wiring is adequate to do the job demanded by all your appliances. Overloading the circuits can cause sudden disastrous fires. At the same time, replace frayed lamp cords.

4. Screens. Be sure the mesh is intact so as to keep flies and mosquitos out. If the screening is rusty, rub away the rust and repaint.

5. Heating plant. Check and clean furnace, flues and chimney.

6. Oily rags. Keep these and rags used in painting in tightly covered metal containers to avoid spontaneous combustion.

7. Siding. Are there cracked or broken boards? Is the paint in good and clean condition?

8. Bricks. Are there any cracked bricks, does mortar have to be replaced?

9. Roofs and flashing. Are shingles and other roofing material in good condition? Is flashing intact and caulked to prevent water leakage? Do shingles have to be replaced or restained?

10. Floors. Are they sound, varnished, painted or waxed? Are rugs and carpets free from rips and tears? Are scatter ruggs well-anchored?

11. Lawns and gardens. Have bare spots on lawn been reseeded, gardens made ready for planting. Hedges trimmed?

12. Garbage cans. Are they provided with covers to keep flies out and foraging animals from scattering contents?

13. Sidewalks and driveways. Are there spots where the concrete is broken and should be repaired?

14. Interior rooms. Is the paint in good condition? Need new draperies? Does furniture need repair? Refinishing?

15. Garages. Are they free from rubbish? Is any gasoline in tightly capped containers to prevent fires?

16. Lightning rods -- are they properly installed? Are conductors intact?

Black says it's doubtful all of those things will need attention.

"But there are sure to be some faults which you can correct as part of your contribution in Canyon's campaign," he adds.

Death Takes Tax Official

Funeral services for Paul Funston, 50, former Canyon resident were held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Church of Christ of Canyon. Bob Wear, pastor, officiated and burial was in the Dreamland cemetery under the direction of N. S. Griggs and Sons of Amarillo.

Mr. Funston, deputy tax assessor collector for Potter County, was pronounced dead on arrival at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo at 10:10 p.m. Friday.

Mr. Funston owned and operated the Buffalo Drug Store for six years following his graduation from West Texas State College. He was born March 19, 1912, at Hamburg, Oklahoma, and lived in the Potter-Randall County area 23 years.

He served as deputy tax collector and manager of the South Amarillo Randall County Tax Office for the past two years. Mr. Funston was an unsuccessful candidate in 1959 for the office of tax assessor and collector for Randall County.

Mr. Funston resided at 712-A Pierce in Amarillo and was a member of the Central Church of Christ. He had lived in Amarillo for 10 years.

Pallbearers were: Hampton Lisle, Pete Leavitt, Wilbur Leavitt, Ed Bourn, Dale Killingsworth and Johnnie McBroom, all of Canyon.

Mr. Funston is survived by his wife, Alta of the home; three sons, Kenneth W. Stone of Plainview, Donald E. Stone of Bovina and Norman C. Stone of Amarillo; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Funston of Canyon; two brothers, James Funston of Medford, Ore. and Wayne Funston of Dixon, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Lonnie Allen of Okinawa and six grandchildren.

Selakovich Candidate

Dan Selakovich of Canyon is a candidate for a doctor of education degree at the University of Colorado.

The commencement exercises will be held tomorrow.
